Dear Travel Agent,

Further to the communication that you may have received in April, we would like to inform you about the latest updates incorporated on the IATA website regarding PCI DSS compliance.

The iata.org domain was currently under review due to a request from the Travel Agent community to have more detailed information. Then new information will help address specific points that might of been unclear (e.g. Compliance validation requirements, Merchant levels, Self-assessment Questionnaire (SAQ), etc.).

The PCI IATA web page will provide more clarity around the PCI DSS standards and compliance procedure, hence, we encourage you to visit the sections "PCI DSS compliance procedure" and "Frequently Asked Questions" to address the queries that IATA has received from the agent community.

Should you have any questions at this stage, please contact your Travel Agent Association or us through www.iata.org/cs

We hope you find this information useful.

Yours sincerely,

IATA Agency Management
