

Anzac Day 2010
TURSAB and TUREB
Briefing Sessions

1. Arriving at the Anzac Commemorative Site on 24 April

Visitors will not be able to enter the Anzac Commemorative Site until 1800 on 24 April:

- Coaches entering the park may be stopped at Kilye Bay for tour guides and drivers to be briefed by the Jandarma.
- Some of the roads on the peninsula will be closed at various times to allow for movement of VIPs, a summary of known road closures is included in this brief.
- The road between Kilye Bay and 2nd Ridge Road will be closed between 1100 and 1400.
- The road between Kabatepe and the Anzac Commemorative Site will be closed to coaches and other vehicles from 0500 until 1800.
- Visitors will not be allowed to enter the Anzac Commemorative site until 1800.
- The road from Kabatepe to Chunuk Bair, which goes past Lone Pine and the 57th Infantry Regiment memorials, will be open for most of the day but traffic will be controlled (and there may be delays) during re-dedication of the 57th Infantry Regiment Memorial between at 1500 and 1800.

At 1800 on 24 April:

- Coaches travelling along the Kilye Bay to Kabatepe road will be stopped at the car park just past the intersection at 2nd Ridge Road to be numbered and for visitors, tour guides, and drivers to be given advice on what to expect while at the services.
- Coaches will travel to the Beach Cemetery car park – under Jandarma motorcycle escort if needed – where visitors will disembark
- Visitors will then walk through to the Anzac Commemorative Site where they will be screened before entering.

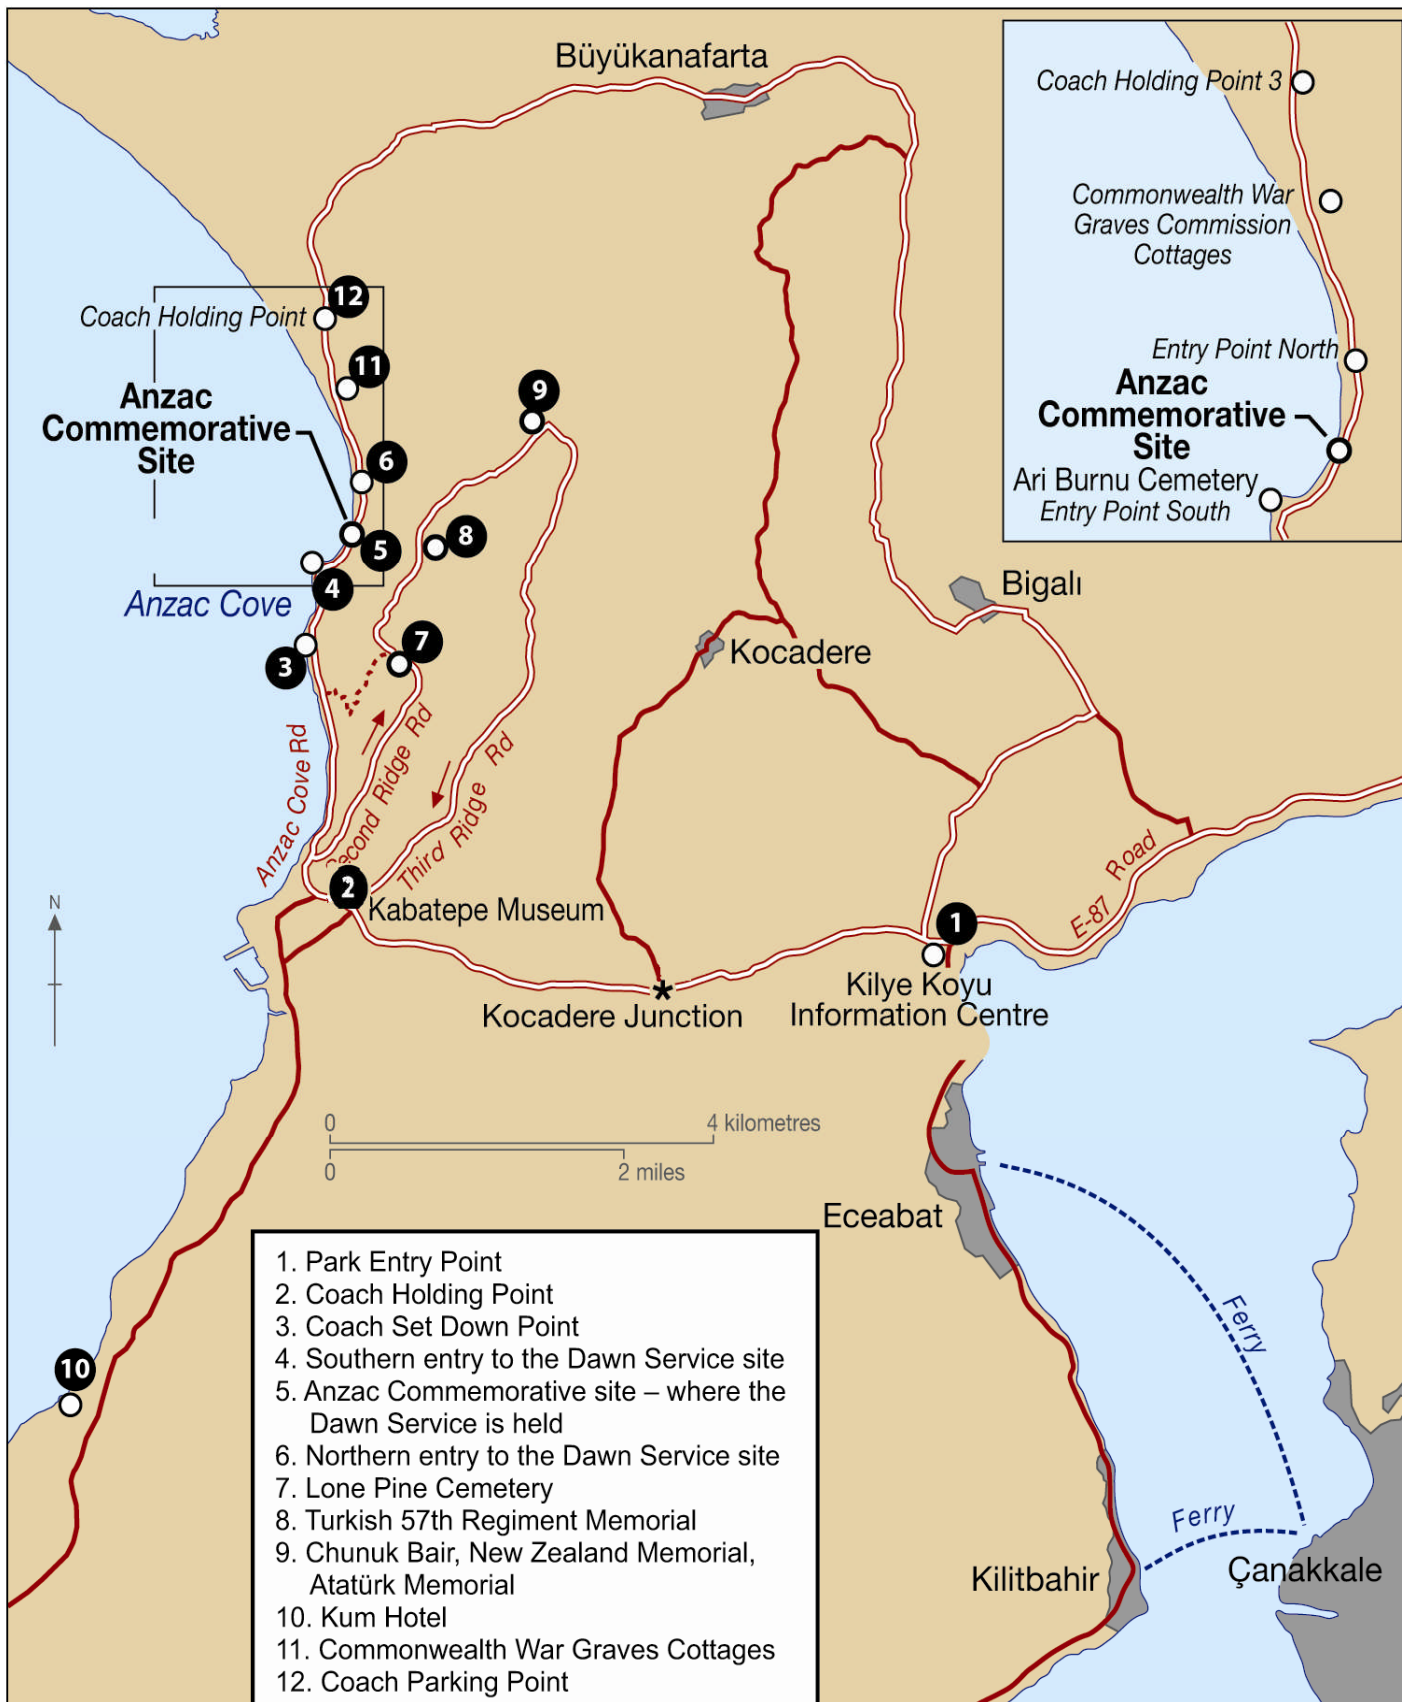

2. Numbering the tour coaches

Coaches arriving for the Commemorations will be stopped just past the 2nd Ridge Road intersection and given a number to display and a corresponding tag for visitor. This assists:

- visitors in identifying their coach on departure after the commemorations;
- by providing an opportunity to advise visitors, tour guides and coach drivers about the procedures for dropping off visitors and the site entry requirements;
- as a collection point for contact information used to keep guides and coach drivers informed about any issues if and when they occur.

Coach drivers are requested to display the card containing the number prominently on their windscreen so that it can be easily seen.

Tour guides and coach drivers will be asked to provide their names and mobile phone numbers. These will be used to get information to them if any issues occur.

3. Entry to the sites

After departing the coaches at the Beach Cemetery car park, visitors will walk 600 meters to the security check point where they will go through airport type screening. If they have any of the following items they must leave them on the coach:

- large backpacks
- alcohol
- weapons and sharp metal objects of any kind, including items such as metal forks
- camping equipment
- flammable liquids

Visitors will be requested to remove metal object such as keys, coins etc prior to their screening. All bags will be searched.

After going through the screening process visitors will be wrist banded and receive an information pack.

4. Preparing for the conditions

The night time temperatures can be very cold and visitors should be advised to bring warm clothing – some even take sleeping bags. Men should be discouraged from wearing shorts. Visitors should pack wet weather clothing if they have it.

Once on the site, visitors will not be allowed to return to their coaches. If they require any essential items such as medicine, they should take that with them.

During the day the sun can be quite strong. We also recommend that visitors bring sunscreen with them.

5. Visitors will be held for 15 minutes after the Dawn Service

After the Dawn Service, visitors will be held on site until 10 minutes after the VIP coaches have departed the area. This is to avoid the risks associated with heavy traffic and large numbers of visitors being on the road at the same time.

Visitors will still be able to gain access to the Lone Pine and Chunuk Bair sites, so it is very important that they are advised to wait, and that they do so.

10 minutes after the VIP coaches have departed the area visitors they will be allowed to walk to Lone Pine and Chunuk Bair via Artillery Road.

Once the visitors have cleared the road, the Jandarma will allow the coaches to pick up visitors who do not want to walk to be dropped off at Lone Pine and Chunuk Bair.

6. Departing from the Gallipoli Peninsula Historical National Park after the services

Some tour groups do not stay after the Dawn Service and depart the area immediately the Jandarma allows coaches to pick up visitors.

Some groups leave immediately after Lone Pine. The visitors walk back to the Anafartalar Road or to Kabatepe and meet up with their coaches.

At the completion of the Chunuk Bair Service, coaches travel along 2nd Ridge Road to Lone Pine and Chunuk Bair and pick up their passengers.

7. Difficulties in departing from Lone Pine

Lone Pine presents the greatest difficulty with regard to departing the area. The number of visitors remaining at Lone Pine results in:

- a great deal of congestion; and,
- a lot of people walking on the road when the coaches are making their way through.

For tour groups who only have visitors at Lone Pine it may be easier if the group walks back to the Anafartalar (Anzac Cove) Road or Kabatepe to join their coach. This will save a considerable amount of time in leaving the Park.

Even if tour groups have some visitors at Chunuk Bair, it might be easier to collect the visitors who went to Lone Pine from the Anafartalar road. The coach would then travel past Lone Pine without stopping and collect passengers from Chunuk Bair only.

The Jandarma have requested that tour parties do not split into small groups to be picked up as it will slow down the pick-up for other coaches. The pick-up points should only be at the main areas such as the Anafartalar Road, Kabatepe, Lone Pine, or Chunuk Bair.

8. Contingencies in the event of extreme weather

At this time of year there may be heavy rain, very low temperatures and strong winds in the Canakkale region.

When coaches are given their number, the mobile phone numbers of the tour guides and coach drivers are collected. It is very important that these are provided as they could be used to contact tour guide and coach drivers with vital information in the event of extreme weather.

The following points are very important with regard to coaches after visitors have been dropped off to attend the services:

- They should park at the northern end of the Anafartalar road as directed.
- They should park on the left hand side of the road so their doors are easily accessible.
- Drivers should not leave their coaches unattended for extended periods.

Depending on how bad the weather is, visitors may need to board coaches and, in the case of extreme weather, leave the Park. This is why coaches must be parked at the northern part of the Anafartalar road. Coach drivers and guides will be advised by SMS if visitors are to board coaches.

If timing is critical, visitors will be asked to board any coach and will be sorted onto their own coach at a safe area designated by the Jandarma. It is important that visitors secure any valuables they may have on the coach in case this occurs.

Announcements will be made by the MC advising the visitors of what actions are to be taken place and what they will have to do.

To ensure the safety of the visitors, it is very important that tour guides and tour groups follow the directions they are given by the Jandarma and event officials.

If the weather improves visitors may return to the Anzac Cove Site. If this occurs they will need to go through the security screening process again.

If coaches arrive at the sites during adverse weather visitors may be asked remain on the coach.

If bad weather continues during the day on 25 April, then contingencies will also be implemented for the later services. Tour guides and coach drivers will be advised by SMS. The MC at the services will also provide messages advising the visitors of what action is being taken.
