luxury aircraft charter for VIPs worldwide

"Our primary concern is always for your safety and security."

Today Hunt&Palmer is a recognised market leading brand for the discerning traveller. Our professional service and total discretion has established us as the most respected supplier of travel services to our large VIP client base.

The service

Whether we are working for a private individual, state delegation or public company, we are able to offer a full choice of aircraft in answer to your travel needs or special requests. We operate around the clock and employ only experienced, knowledgeable staff who are able to assist you at any time, whatever your requirement.

Our network of offices – throughout Western and Central Europe, the Middle East, the Far East and the USA – ensures that we have a truly global reach, local knowledge and the resources to help us deliver on our promises. Each charter is unique to your individual needs and we appreciate your demand for a tailored solution.

Our VIP clients enjoy an unrivalled level of service from Hunt&Palmer. We pride ourselves on our ability to provide creative solutions, while ensuring that our passengers experience the height of luxury travel.

The Hunt&Palmer difference

Our position as Europe's largest privately-owned aviation charter broker has given us enormous influence and bargaining power in the industry. Those benefits reach our clients as we are able to source an impressively wide range of aircraft for extremely competitive prices.

We have consolidated our position as market leaders by offering professional advice with assured discretion and the highest standard of service. Our primary concern is always for your safety and security, and we have exacting standards for the aircraft we charter.

Hunt&Palmer has access to the complete range of aircraft including modern, wide-bodied, luxury jets such as the Falcon, Challenger, Gulfstream and Embraer series, all with intercontinental capability and customised seating for up to 16 passengers. For larger parties, specific long-range airliners such as the VIP Boeings, specially configured for between 25 and 100 passengers, are also available for charter through us.

Further illustrated details and full inspection visits can be arranged upon your request.
